

Dear guest,

We would like to inform you of some changes related to the health rules implemented against covid.

Wearing the mask is mandatory on your arrival to the establishment.

However, once the staff have checked your vaccination certificate and if it is up to date, your mask will not be necessary to move around the establishment (including the restaurant).

Hand sanitizer is always at your disposal in all the communal areas of the establishment.

The lane markings have been removed however social distancing is still to be respected.

A virucidal solution is always used to treat all surfaces touched by our guests.

We continue to make every effort to facilitate your visit and hope to see you all here very soon.

The Bœuf Rouge team
